

8-Weeks Online Fiction Writing I/II

Begins: March 8, 2022

Instructor: Leslie-Ann Murray

Location: Online (weekly video meet-up Tuesdays 7-9pm ET)

Fee: $575

A private conference with the instructor is included.

A writing sample is not required (but welcome) for this course.

In this workshop, writers will learn how to manipulate the tools of fiction-writing (point-of-view, plot, characterizing detail, tone, etc.) to craft complete and unique stories that engage the reader. In-class critiques and exercises, as well as lectures and feedback from the instructor, are used to help students further develop their writing. This course is intended for writers with some writing experience who are looking to learn more about what makes a story, “a story.”
